Nextera Communications acquires assets of OneNet USA

EDINA — Nextera Communications recently purchased the assets of OneNet USA, marking the Brainerd-based telecommunications company's fourth business acquisition in four years.

"We have provided a variety of network solutions to OneNet for several years and we recognize their customers' unique technology needs," said Greg Arvig, president of Nextera. "Our focus is to provide a seamless transition for these customers."

The new customers, mostly in the Twin Cities area, now have direct access to Nextera's robust carrier-grade switching and network platform, providing business-class products and services including hosted PBX and fixed wireless phone and Internet. Customers also have access to MyNextera, a Web portal where they can configure their phone services, view invoices, establish payment types and pay bills online, quickly and conveniently.

With headquarters in Edina, OneNet USA will continue serving as an agent and strategic partner of Nextera, assisting customers with their phone and Internet needs.

Nextera has the largest fixed wireless business network in Minnesota, with more than 60 towers throughout the Twin Cities and Duluth areas. Thousands of businesses utilize this reliable, ultra-fast Internet and telephone service for their primary connection or combine it with traditional wired circuits to create a backup ensuring business continuity without the risk of voice and data service outages.

Nextera has offices in Minnetonka, Brainerd, St Cloud and Duluth and provides customized, secure telecommunications services and local customer service to small and mid-sized businesses throughout Minnesota.
